

Building Princeton

SUNDAY, APRIL 8

2:00—4:00

Building Princeton (using 70,000 LEGO building blocks) increases awareness of the town's rich architectural heritage. Fifty teams will each receive a photograph and story of a historic building, which they will build within the 2-hour program. When the models are finished, they will be placed on a giant map of Princeton, providing an amazing aerial view of the town.

Led by Architect Stephen W. Schwartz of Building Blocks Workshops

Location:  Historical Society of Princeton at Uptide Farmstead 354 Quaker Road, Princeton

Tickets : $35 per team (up to four people with at least 1 adult)

*Ideal for ages 8-12, but all ages are welcome!
Pre-registration is encouraged, as space is limited.*

Register online at www.princetonhistory.org

Thank you to our generous sponsors:

Marina Rubina,
Architect

